Ruth West Goes To YW Post In Shanghai

Miss Ruth West, of Cedarville, Ohio, for the last three years executive director of the Young Women's Christian association in Waukegan, Ill., will leave Chicago by plane sometime during the week of Oct. 6 for Shanghai, China, where she will become a national advisory secretary in a city YWCA. She will represent the foreign division of the national board of the American YWCA.

Miss West recently attended the first YWCA international study conference on Women and World Reconstruction, held at Teachers college, Columbia university, in New York City, from Aug. 18 to Sept. 14. There more than 50 members of YWCA's in 26 countries, including a group of American secretaries, considered the responsibilities of women in the world today and their contribution to lasting peace.

A graduate summa cum laude of Cedarville college, with a master's degree in religious education from Oberlin college, Miss West has worked with young people's groups connected with churches and camps ever since she was a young girl. She directed the high school group choir in the Methodist church in her home town, and served as president of Young People and assistant superintendent in the church school. While in Oberlin she also supervised teachers in the church school at the children's home and was chairman of an international deputation group of students of many nationalities. They visited young people in colleges and churches so that they could meet students from other lands.

The granddaughter of a minister of the Christian church, Miss West comes of a long line of educators and religious workers. On leaving college her first position was as a young people's worker in the First Congregational church in Mansfield, Ohio. Thereafter she was a group worker and director of a children's camp for the City Missionary society of Hartford, Conn. In Waukegan she worked with the Business and Professional club and co-ed programs. With a membership of about 300 in Waukegan, the YW there serves a constituency of about 1200 persons.

Miss West's personal interests include music, dramatics, leading discussions, camp crafts, community and international problems, and intercultural, interracial activities.

Services Held Saturday for Sgt. L. A. Martin

Services for Sgt. Lawrence A. (Dutch) Martin, one of the first Greene county men to die in World War II, were held at the New funeral home Saturday at 1:30 p. m., in charge of Rev. David H. Deen, Xenia.

Military services, in charge of Greene County Post, No. 718, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were conducted at the grave in Grape Creek cemetery.

Sgt. Martin died of gunshot wounds received in an accident at Fort Greely, Alaska, May 29, 1942. His body was returned to the United States recently from Alaska on the U. S. army transport Honda.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin, Xenia, he was born in Jamestown Jan. 18, 1919. He enlisted at Patterson field in Mar. 1942 and served with a heavy bombardment squadron in the air forces.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Kermit L., Mobile, Ala.; Russell L., Xenia, and Glenn Earl, who is in the navy and stationed in Astoria, Ore.

Jamestown Truck In Freak Accident

The intersection of West Main and Mulberry streets in Wilmington was the scene of a freak accident last Wednesday at noon when a truck crushed into a parked car while neither of the vehicles was occupied.

The truck belonging to Gerald "Buck" Jamestown, was parked when it came out of gear and rolled down South Mulberry street and hit the car of Mrs. Pauline Houser, Wilmington, which was parked on the east side of South Mulberry street.

No damage was caused to the truck but the car was damaged considerably with the left fender badly torn and bent and the hood bent by the bed of the truck.

City Patrolman Wade Hufford investigated.

ENTERTAIN CLASS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Guthrie entertained the Westminster class Tuesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright. Mrs. Herbert Powers led devotions and Myron Williamson was in charge of the program.

Guy LeForge has leased the Standard Oil station on Xenia avenue and has taken over the operation of the station.

School Scene

By Ann Duval

Something new has been added to our school over the weekend. Window panes! Yes, sixty-five of them!

Because of a severe hailstorm last summer, and difficulty in replacing windows damaged at that time, last week's chilly days, in some of the classrooms, has brought us a very realistic reminder of the season just approaching.

But this week, we have noticed quite an improvement in the temperature, both inside and out of doors, and we are able to enter the classrooms minus heavy sweaters and coats, and especially without the Old North Wind had full sway on chilly days. . . .

Fall Fair To Be Held This Week
All F. H. A. and F. E. A. members are hoping that the weather will smile on them on Friday of this week, because the annual Fall Fair will again be held on that evening.

Pupils belonging to these organizations will be excused from regular class work on Friday, when they will arrange exhibits for the Fair. Prizes will be awarded for winning products entered in various departments. The sponsors of the Fair are hoping to have large displays in all classes.

The Fair is open to the public, and we invite all to come early and stay late. You may spend the evening in observing the displays and in purchasing refreshments in the gymnasium. A movie, beginning at eight, entitled, Scatter Good Baines, is also included in the evening's program. During intermission, prizes will be given to the lucky people who hold winning tickets. . . .

Minstrel Plans Are Announced
November 9 is a date we are all looking forward to, for it is the date of this year's Red and White Minstrel.

We are sure that with Don Chestnut for interlocutor and Bill Clets, Doug Cutler, Jerry Wilburn, Clifton Fredericks, Roger Collins and Jack Irvine as end men, you will be in for a stunner throughout the performance.

Then, too, we know there will be a variety of good music from the large chorus, consisting of twenty-five boys and sixty girls. So please don't forget the date—November 9! . . .

Seniors Sponsor First Dance
On Friday night, a get-acquainted dance was staged successfully by the seniors, with more than one hundred students and teachers attending. Admission was only ten cents, and that included all the cider one could drink.

Jerry Wilburn and Jane Chaplin led the Grand March, but because of the newly vanished floor and the over-abundance of spangles, there were a few people sliding instead of dancing.

Posters for the dance were made by Barbara Koppe and Jane Chaplin. . . .

Monday morning, a sense of superiority was assumed by the dignified seniors.

Representatives from Art Studios in Xenia, Maerker Paints in Springfield, Montrose Studio from Columbus, and Alexander Studio from Columbus, showed the class samples and prices of their pictures.

By a class vote, it was decided to go to the Montrose Studios in Columbus, and the tentative date of October 11 was set. . . .

"Indians" Wallop "Little Reds"
Friday night "Indians" came home with the scalp of another county team Friday when they swung their old warblers to the tune of a 9 to 4 victory over Jefferson.

Don Reed pitched a one-hit game, with Jefferson scoring three runs on errors. The Little Reds tied the score in the fourth inning—4 to 4, but the Indians soon showed them that it couldn't last.

Shadley started for Jefferson and was making progress until he committed a balk with a man on third, which resulted in a run for the local boys. After that, the pitcher blew up and was pulled in the second inning. Jefferson put in their first basemen, Talbot, for pitcher, who handled the ball well, but allowed too many hits.

Indians Win Fourth Game
Cedarville "Indians" won their fourth game Tuesday when they defeated Jamestown in a close contest, with a score of 2-1. The Indians have won four out of five games to date and will try their luck again Friday when they will play Spring Valley, there.

The latter team is rated as one of the toughest clubs in the county, but the Indians say, in regard to this contest, "We shall see!"

Librarians Meet
Mrs. Chestnut, who is supervisor of the library, called a meeting of the librarians last week. As it was their first meeting, instructions were presented on giving out books, indexing books, and care of the magazines. Periods were assigned at that time to librarians. They are as follows:

First Period: Vera Thorsen.
Second Period: (There is no librarian because the study hall is very small.)

Third Period: Martha Rich.

Beaver - Local Vo Ag Has OSU Teachers

Beaver Creek and Cedarville high schools have been selected by Ohio State university, Columbus, as a joint practice teaching center for students majoring in agriculture education, J. Ralph Harner, Beaver Creek-Cedarville vocational agriculture instructor has announced.

Two OSU students, William Karnes and Leighton McFerrer, began three months of practice teaching last week.

Karnes, who has been assigned to Beaver Creek, and McFerrer, the Cedarville instructor, will work directly under Harner and each will observe teaching methods at the other's school.

The center is one of 14 selected throughout the state for teacher training work.

Board to Act On Evaders Cases This Week

Things were straightening themselves out with considerable help from Mrs. Elizabeth Harley, the clerk, at Greene County draft board headquarters, 1212 North Detroit street.

She reported that the total registered here during the three-week period was 3,143.

However, that included three youths who registered but didn't have to because they were over age and ten who were late and were registered early this week.

Action in the cases of two draft evaders will await a meeting sometime this week of the three-man draft board. They are Donald J. Stoops, 24, near Yellow Springs, and David Orcutt, 25, Yellow Springs, both of whom claim they would be exempt because they are veterans but are opposed to peacetime selective service in draft headquarters.

Neither registered although informed of the possible $10,000 fine and five-year prison term.

Any policy on draft evasion or failure to register sent to local boards will probably come from national draft headquarters.

Enforcement of the penal provisions of the law is a part of the U. S. district attorney's duties and individual cases as they come to the draft board.

As for failure to register, most of these violations are through misinformation or ignorance of the law, it was explained. During the wartime draft many of the eligibles picked up by the FBI for failure to register were allowed to do so and no further penalty was imposed upon promise of good behavior.

No local draft boards have been ordered to refuse registration to men who failed to register before the Sept. 18 deadline set in the presidential proclamation.

When the local board meets its biggest job will be to start classification of men in preparation for the physical examination call of eight for October and an actual draft call of four in November.

First group of questionnaires, mailed out Sept. 15, should be back in the board's hands by Sept. 25. The state's number, limited—and the classification of these youths, most likely draftees, will follow.

Order numbers for induction will be by age, the oldest first. Key to order numbers may be explained by the example: John 25-45, 25 years old, is registered with the local board, which is No. 47, and a number—say 33—is assigned to the state of Ohio. Doe is fifth oldest man registered. His number would be: 33-47-25-5. The state's number, his age and his own order in age make up the figure.

Of the 3,143 registered here, Mrs. Hurley said 577 were non-residents and their cards would be sent to other boards having jurisdiction over their homes or records.

To illustrate how some men already have become exempt, the board pointed to the cases of John Leroy Andrews, Cedarville; Warren Harding Smith, Xenia, and Edmund C. Turner, Yellow Springs. All who were draft-exempt because of marriage and service in the war, became 20 on Monday—first day the board swung into operation after the registration—and are now "untouchables" so far as selective service is concerned.

Eighteen-year-olds, however, are replenishing the draft pool, these youths complying with the federal law compelling them to sign up on their 18th birthday.

A GABFEST COMING UP

Americans are in for a deluge of oratory from now on until the November election. Henry Wallace and his cowboy running mate are already at it, with little success so far except the collection of spoiled fruit. Truman will do a great deal of ad lib talking, off the cuff. He has a hard time with a manuscript. Dewey is a good off-hand talker, and Wallace, well, he is good at dodging eggs and hollerin'. So it looks like we're in for it. But it's great to live in a country where folks can rant around and talk all they want to without having a gun poked in their ribs and being told what to say.

NEWS ITEM

"Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and her daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger begin a 15-minute radio program, Oct. 4." We can hardly wait! ... "The average wage in Ohio is $52.34 a week." Our wife, looking up from reading proof, asks us where's her $52.04! ... "The postal department's loss of $345,000,000 is because of increased operation costs, not mismanagement." But the rest of us can't ask congress to cover our deficits. ... "The Democrats have sent out what they call 'pulse-feelers'." By November, they'll need pulse-warmer. ... "An 82-year-old man in Colorado walked a tight rope on his birthday." Aren't the rest of us doing it? ... "Mrs. Morrow-Tait, English, and 24, has started on a round-the-world flight." Tait safe for her to do it alone!

MORE TEACHERS

For the first time in several years, the teacher famine shows some signs of passing away. Superintendents are smiling again. They even have applicants. For a time, only the most alert, country scouring school men filled their faculty positions. There was consternation in every community, when some teacher resigned to accept a better position. But the word is that teachers are more plentiful now than for five years. For one thing, the training schools have been turning out teachers, and higher wages are causing more people to take up teaching as a career.

HE OUGHT TO BE GOOD

President Truman says that since he has been a judge, a senator and a president, dealing all the time with laws, he ought to make a good lawyer. Once upon a time a man sold another man a coon dog, guaranteeing him to be a good hunter. Within a week, the purchaser brought the dog back. "That dog is no coon dog," he said. "He doesn't know a thing about hunting coons!" The one who sold the dog shook his head, murmuring: "That's funny; I tried him for everything else and he wasn't any good, so I was sure he was a good coon dog!"

LOOK WHO'S SMART!

A Russian writer says that "Shakespeare's soul home is in Russia, as the western people are unable to appreciate him because of their low standard of intelligence." It pays to be ignorant.

UNREST IN RUSSIA

It is very certain that there is unrest in Russia, and many important people are seeking refuge in free countries before the deluge. It is feared by observers that Russia may wage war as a way to unity among her people and satellites.

IT'S OUR TURN

Remember all the raving and complaining—and just all it was—about the United States shipping scrap iron to Japan? Because, later, it became apparent that most of it was used to prepare for war against the USA? But, believe it or not, Japan is now shipping scrap iron to the USA. But we promise we won't shoot it back at her!

A NEW WORRY

It sounds strange, but the word "surplus" causes as much alarm in this country as even "inflation," and, with some folks, as much as

"war" itself. Surplus means that production has caught up and passed demand. And everybody knows what happens in that case. It worries a lot of folks.

Slight Danger Noted In DDT Dusted Corn

Tests of Silage Show Minute Traces in Milk

Farmers are being told to use DDT dust or spray for control of European corn borer. This raises a question. Can corn dusted or sprayed with DDT be used for silage for beef or dairy cattle without danger to the animals, or to people who use the milk?

Tests in Wisconsin showed there was a trace of DDT in the milk of dairy cows fed silage made from canning factory pea vines which had been dusted with DDT. The amount of DDT was so minute, however, that it was not considered dangerous.

On corn, an application of 20 pounds of dust (containing 5 per cent DDT) per acre might amount to two ounces of DDT per ton of silage; that is, if all the dust stayed on the corn, which is extremely unlikely. Even that much would result in only about a gram of DDT daily in the ration of a cow or steer.

DDT toxicity studies at a private research farm indicate no danger to animals from considerably larger amounts. Even so, if any farmer fears a trace of DDT in milk from silage made from sprayed or dusted corn, he can feed the silage to steers, heifers or dry cows.

Twice-Day Record

With a record-smashing total of 1,118.8 pounds of butterfat, Crestview Toddler Susan, purchased Holstein dairy cow owned by Lakefield Farms, Clarkston, Mich., has established a new all-time U. S. butterfat figure for cows being milked twice daily. "Susan" produced close to 1,400 pounds of table butter during the year.

Herds and Flocks

Fall pigs have advantages over spring litters because they are farrowed under more favorable conditions. Sows and gilts have been on summer pasture soaking up sunshine during pregnancy. Iowa State college swine specialists say fall pigs usually come stronger and more pigs are saved.

Turkey raisers are being advised now not to put baking soda or salt in drinking water for poult, because use of these in excessive amounts causes a condition known as "water belly."

Burn the carcass of every animal that dies of anthrax. Don't open the carcass. Soak it with kerosene, cover it with a load of coals or straw, put a load of manure over them and set fire to the pile. If possible, burn anthrax carcasses right where the animal dies.

Castrate pigs any time after they are a week old. After castration, keep them on clean grass pasture where there are no mudholes, to reduce danger of lockjaw infection.

Caution Urged In Feeding Salt to Poultry Flock

Extra salt will control cannibalism for a short time after it is added to the ration of chickens, according to Pennsylvania State college. Usual amount is two teaspoons per gallon of drinking water. Salt should be fed only long enough to stop cannibalizing, except the small amount contained in the mash. Feeding large quantities actually may prove harmful.

With a Buckeye In Congress

Revising Our Executive Department

Former President Herbert Hoover, who is the chairman of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, has offered the nation food for profound thought during the past week. In a talk before a Washington group, Mr. Hoover observed that we are coming "very close to socializing savings" when our taxes have reached a point so high that "they are draining the fundamental savings of the people out of the Treasury."

The former president declared that the responsibilities of our government executive departments have now grown so great that the President of the United States now heads between sixty and eighty independent agencies departments. A president devoting just an hour each week to these important branches of our government would be putting in almost eighty hours without having time for any consideration of policy issues.

Some of our Government bureaus, because of this physical factor, are today checked almost entirely by the Budget Director, with no one else supervising their work. To remedy this increasingly burdensome condition, the work of the Hoover commission is pointing towards more active participation by cabinet officers in the responsibilities of our Government. If Mr. Dewey is elected to the Presidency, it is already clear that his vice president will be given far more to do than any previous vice president. Cabinet assistants too should be carefully consider for their ability to relieve the president of the onerous burdens now thrust upon him.

Maine—and The Nation

It is not true that as Maine goes, so goes the nation, in every national contest. But when the people of a state cast 71.4 per cent of their ballots for a particular candidate of a particular party they have made news. To some extent the results of the vote for United States Senator in Maine reflect the immense personal popularity of Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith who becomes the first woman elected to the Senate from political scratch. But the results of the other contests in the rock-ribbed state are no less convincing. The Republican candidate for the governorship of Maine won over his Democratic opponent by almost 2 to 1. The three Maine Congressional seats were won by Republicans by margins of 5 to 3, 5 to 2, and 2½ to 1.

The importance of the election of Republicans to the Senate and the House of Representatives is emphasized by the Maine results. If the national polls are accurate in their prediction of a Dewey-Warren sweep throughout the country, the election of a Republican majority in both branches of the Congress would appear to be imperative to assure an effective and cooperative national policy.

It is by no means certain that the retention of the small Republican majority in the Senate will occur and Governor Dewey is planning to devote a large part of his campaign to efforts designed to assure this result. We have seen the difficulties which arise from a divided Executive and Congress. It must be hoped that the November results will prevent a recurrence.

A Fighter Who Knew The Score
There was a good deal of talk in many circles during the war that our boys required more "orientation." We set up elaborate courses of highly varying types, which had limited degrees of success. But one soldier whose name has come to public notice this week knew what he was fighting to build. He was a small town lad who died in the Philippines. His name was Robert Johnstone, and his will provided that his ten thousand dollar life insurance policy be used after the

Many Top-Flight Horses to Race

Beautiful Lebanon raceway, located at the Warren county fairgrounds, will have more than 200 of the finest pacers and trotters in the nation competing for liberal purses when the 10-night fall meeting opens on Saturday, Oct. 2.

Many of the top-flight horses of the season opened at the spring meeting here in May and will return for the grand finale. Already entered are Florian, Barber B. Jeannette Mitchell, from the Oscar Silver stable, Dayton; Barefoot G. Clark stable, Union City, Ind.; Joann, Wickham's stable, Marion; Double Volo, Dr. McMillan stable, Lebanon; and the ace pacer, Red McKays from the Boring stable, Shelbyville, Ind. Other stables entered are Dorsey Greene, Findlay; A. C. Gordon, Washington, C. H.; Ernie Smith, Washington, C. H.; Slim Shilling, Columbus; William Moore, Toledo; Leon Stevens, Ven West; Harry Miller, Eaton and many others.

Eight races are on each night's card, the first to get under way at 8:15 and continue every 22 minutes. Automatic pari-mutuels will be in charge of Bentley Murray with electric odds board to be located across from the grandstand. George M. Martin, of Columbus, will be the official starter with his electric starting gate.

More than 60 newspaper sportswriters and radio sportscasters attended a press dinner at the Golden Lamb Saturday evening, Sept. 23, as guests of the Lebanon Trotting association.

One of the most beautiful and best lighted raceways in the nation, Lebanon raceway is located halfway between Dayton and Cincinnati on State Route 48.

Harry N. Faststein is president of the association and John J. Carl is secretary-treasurer.

Industrial Teacher Resigns at Silver

One vacancy still exists in the teaching staff of Greene county public schools, Supt. S. O. Liming has disclosed.

Richard Frye, Ada, O., employed this year as industrial arts teacher at Silvercreek high school, Jamestown, resigned at the close of the first week of school. He will enter private business in Ada.

The teacher hired for this position also serves as a bus driver for Silvercreek schools.

Along the Greene County Farm Front

The U. S. department of agriculture today urged the nation's farmers to produce the largest peacetime spring pig crop on record in order to increase the supply of meat.

The 1949 spring pig goal calls for 60,000,000 pigs—an increase of 17 per cent over nearly 9,000,000 more than the 1948 spring crop. This will require an increase of about 21 per cent in sows farrowing, if litters are of average size.

The goal aims to help provide for consumption of all meats averaging 15 pounds per person in late 1949 and 1950, when the 1949 spring pigs will be a ready market. This will exceed the average consumption of 145 pounds expected this year, and will be much above the prewar average consumption of 135 pounds.

Increased pork output will help maintain total meat supplies above the present level as farmers and ranchers start rebuilding herds of beef, veal, lamb and mutton.

Officials stated that although this year's record corn crop would provide enough feed for an even larger pig crop than the goal announced today, the number of sows and gilts available for breeding this fall and winter will be the limiting factor in spring pig production. The spring pig crop requested for 1949 would be the third largest on record and the largest since the war years of 1942 and 1943, when a record total of 61,000,000 and 74,000,000 spring pigs were produced.

As this year's record corn crop has grown toward maturity, feed prices have declined and the relationship to hog prices has become more favorable for greater hog production. A hog-feed price relationship favoring hog production is expected to continue next year with average crop-producing weather in 1949.

WAR IS OVER FOR THESE MEN . . . Fighting of the suspended "war" in the Holy Land will not be resumed, as far as these captive Arab fighting men are concerned unless they escape Jewish imprisonment or are released by force of other Arab arms. In the photo, some of the 2,000 Arab prisoners of war march through the gate of the stockade where they are held by their Israeli captors. Among the Arab prisoners also are a number of Britons, some of whom left British armed forces to join the Arabs.

The supply of feed concentrates per animal unit fed during the 1948-49 feeding year is reported as a record high level, 20 per cent greater than during the feeding year just ending. The large crop of corn expected a year from now and average 1949 crops would again provide near-record feed grain supplies for 1949-50, and even with a short corn crop, they would provide sufficient feed for finishing the pigs requested.

1948 Corn Crop

"Ohio's 1948 corn crop may become a 'dollar corn' or even less, unless farmers build the necessary storage to safely house their big crop and protect their holdings with a government loan or purchase agreement," Dale C. Williams, chairman of the Ohio production and marketing administration committee, stated today.

The price support for corn is expected to be about $1.50 per bushel in Ohio. "But someone pulled the props from under the corn support program when the Corn C. C. Credit corporation's new charter was authorized by congress July 1," Williams stated.

"Under this charter, C. C. C. is restricted to the storage facilities the corporation controlled on July 1—about 50 million bushels. This is only a fraction of the storage needed for the surplus grains from 1948 bumper crops. The corporation can't buy corn at the support level when it comes to market, because it has no storage in which to store it. I hate to think what will happen to corn prices if the surplus corn is dumped on the market this fall. It would certainly be a 'predator's paradise'."

The farmer has it within his power, however, to make the support program effective by building temporary storage for his corn—storage that will be acceptable to C. C. C. for a loan, or insure the grade and quality to enable him to take out a purchase agreement at the support price. Williams urged every farmer with a storage problem to contact his county AAA office, where he can obtain detailed information on sealing requirements, suggestions on patching up old cribs or plans for building new temporary cribs.

Several Greene county farmers have requested that they be placed on the records for corn loans under the 1948 corn loan program, as soon as they are available, according to a report made by Joseph B. Mason, chairman of the Greene county AAA.
